Interesting facts about Sunrage

DOT MATRIX ISSUE

Every tinter knows the struggle: getting film to stick perfectly over the dot matrix. Gels and liquids promise a fix - but they fall short. We've cracked the code. With our film and the right technique, the problem is history.

The stubborn white air pockets in the dot matrix are a constant frustration for many.

With SUNRAGE window film, you can achieve a flawlessly sealed dot matrix.

UNIQUE FEATURES

Both the consumer and the installer/tinter choose the film. And what do they look for? Appearance, quality, and ease of application. A happy installer means a happy customer. Here are two key features.

The clearer, the better. And if the film also blocks IR rays, the customer is sold.

Curved windows require heat shaping - the faster and easier, the better.

Documentation & support

To boost sales and provide excellent customer support, we offer a complete program of support materials for every distributor.

A high-gloss tri-fold color chart displaying all available films side by side will help every customer make the right choice.

A great presentation is half the battle, as they say. Our library of high-resolution posters and banners can elevate any showroom.

How do you clearly and convincingly explain to a customer why they should choose SUNRAGE window film - and which one? With our available printed materials, you've got it covered.

Pre-cutting window film to size offers many advantages. Our cutting program features a vast library of digital patterns for car windows.
